

Alan Gehringer

Rhythm Consultant

When he's not cycling, skiing or riding his motorcycle, Alan Gehringer is fascinated by innovation, technology, business strategy, and solving complex problems. A lifelong learner with a passion for excellence, Alan brings over thirty-five years of learning, experience, and successful patterns to help others succeed and realize their potential. His clients appreciate his calm, steady demeanor and his exceptional listening skills; he is also expert at keeping the big picture at the forefront. His passion to help companies succeed is rooted in his experience growing up in a family manufacturing business.

In his prior role as CEO of IMC, Inc., a public partnership in Central Pennsylvania, Alan was responsible for helping companies develop and implement strategies to grow and improve profitability. Before leading IMC, Alan returned to his family business to reengineer the business model and run it profitably. Alan earned his Master of Business Administration degree at St. Francis University and has a BS in Industrial Engineering Technology. He is also trained in the Great Game of Business Open Book Management, Sandler Sales & Sales Management, Six Thinking Hats, Lean, Six Sigma, and Executive Consulting. Alan lives and works in central Pennsylvania with his wife and two wonderful boys.

Alan is a vital part of our Consulting Village. Our team has facilitated over 3,000 consulting sessions with clients around the world and across a wide spectrum of industries. We have helped clients in technology, healthcare, education, hospitality, manufacturing, media, professional services and many other industries to align their teams and accelerate their growth. Our consultants have a reputation for going the second mile to ensure client success. They help companies grow by making sure that every person understands the company's strategy and priorities and are working on the right things to achieve them.

While all of our consultants have their own areas of expertise and personal experience, they are all Rhythm experts and masters in understanding and implementing every aspect of our Think Plan Do methodology. We invest in our Core Value "Keep Smart" to ensure that our team of expert consultants are honing their craft to help your company grow. Our consultants meet weekly to discuss clients and best practices so that you will get the benefit of different perspectives and patterns that have proven successful. With our village of consultants, you have a whole team of experts working to support your business and help you achieve your dreams.
